AWARD OF VIADUCT DAMAGES.

Certificates for Property-Owners and Appeals to the Court by Two of the Dissatisfied.

The Virginia-avenue property-owners who will be damaged by the change in the grade of that thoroughfare, necessitated by the construction of the viaduct, are being notified by the Board of Public Works to call at its office to-morrow afternoon, at 2 o'clock ,and receive their certificates. The certificates are being printed and will be for their money, however, for the reason that they propose to settle in the courts the justice of the awards made to them. Among the dissatis-fied owners is the Cincinna'i, Hamilton & Indianapolis Railroad Company, which yesterday filed in the Circuit Court an appeal from the board's decision awarding it $5,000 damages. The company alleges that it owns lots which it The company alleges that it owns lots which it has used for over twenty years as the site for a freight depot, and that if compelled to build a new depot, it will be damaged to the amount of $50,000, for which judgment is demanded. The complaint relates, also, that the company remonstrated with the Board of Public Works, but that the board refused to hear any testimony, and overruled said remonstrance. Addison C. Harris and C. W. Fairbanks are the company's attorneys.

In the Superior Court Joseph F. Schofield filed a similar suit, demanding $2,100 damages. He alleges that he owns a lot on Virginia avenue, on which he has a feed-store; that his damages have been assessed at $630 by the Board of Public Works, and that property on either side of his premises and across the street has been fixed at a larger sum. He recites that by the change of grade the first story of his building will be rendered useless, and that in time of rain-fall the elevated grade of the street will cause his premises to be flooded.

The Board's Order Legal.

City Attorney Bailey says that there is a mistaken impression concerning the authority of the Board of Public Works to order the vacation of Alabama street. That action, he says, is taken under the legislative act of 1885 granting the Union Railway Company certain powers. While this act conflicts with the charter, it nevertheless, renders the board's order legal, according to the city attorney.

MOURNING FOR A GOOD MAN

Arrangements for the Funeral of Ex-Senator Joseph Ewing McDonald.

Resolutions Passed by State Officers, Hendricks and Gray Clubs-Letters and Telegrams of Condolence-Lawyers of Crawfordsville.

The McDonald residence, on North Meridian street, was visited by hundreds of friends, yes terday, who called to offer sympathy and assistance. Mrs. McDonald remained closely to her room, however, and only her intimate friends saw her. Her brother, Mr. Frank Farnsworth, of Washington; Don Piatt, of Mackacheek, O., cousin of the ex-Senator, and James D. McDonald and son George, of Attica, brother and nephew of the deceased, and W. C. Shepard, of Hamilton, O., were among the arrivals of the day. Richard J. Bright and John C. Fay, of the Washington law firm with which Mr. McDonald was connected, are expected to reach the city this morning. The former will be one of the pall-bearers, as will be Senator Voorbees, who is to take the place of Justice Harlan. Senator Turple will not be present at the funeral, owing to an engagement to deliver an owing to an engagement to deliver an address at St. Mary's School of the West, in Vigo county, at the hour of the funeral. He made this engagement at the request of Mr. McDonald, and after conference with friends yesternay, decided to fill it. Judge Gresham has written that he cannot be present.

The remains will lie in the rear parlor from 1 to 3 o'clock this afternoon, and may then be viewed by the public. In order to avoid confusion the people will be admitted at the south door, and after passing the casket will leave the house through the front door. The embalming is said to have been very anccessful, the features retaining a strikingly life-like appearance. The funeral will be public to all who desire to attend. Rev. Joseph A. Milburn will have charge, assisted by Rev. Dr. Haines, and the service is to be brief, with the simple Presbyterian form of prayer, Scripture-reading, sermon and hymns. The choir of the Second Church will sing two of the ex-Senator's favorite hymns, "Rock of Ages" and "Nearer, My God, to Thee." These hymns were sung athis request at the funeral of his son Ezekiel, and for that reason will be repeated. When the remains are borne to Crown Hill Cemetery the order of the line will be that arranged by the Hendricks Club committee—Simeon Coy, Martin Murphy and Edward Dunn—as follows:

The State officers will be at the State-house at 1 o'clock P. M., where they will be met at the Tennessee entrance with carriages. The judges, county officers, city officers and members of the Common Council will meet at the Council chamber at 1 o'clock sharp, and will take carriages at the west entrance of the court-house, on Delaware street. The Hendricks, Gray, Cleveland, German and other clubs will meet at their respective headquarters at 1 o'clock sharp, from which points they will march to the north side of Circle street, at Meridian, where the line will be formed, starting from that point at 2 o'clock sharp, proceeding north along Meridian street to the residence. All citizens in carriages who expect to enter the procession will form on the cross streets and fall in line after the escort clubs and hearse have passed according to the formation above given. formation above given.

Meeting of the Bar.

The memorial meeting of the bar of the county and State will occur at 10 o'clock this morning in the federal court-room. The effort to secure the presence of Justice Harlan was not success ful. He had left Chicago immediately after tele graphing to Mrs. McDonald and spent Monday night in Glendale. Mr. John M. Butler sent telegrams there to intercept him but they failed to reach him. He is now four miles from Georgetown, Ky., visiting his sister. Judge Gresham being also unable to be present, leaves the chairmanship of the meeting to be decided after it convenes. Attorney-general Miller will attend the meeting, as will many leading lawyers of the State. Robert C. Bell, of Fort Wayne, wired last night that he could not be present.

Tributes to His Memory.

A meeting of Democratic State officers was held yesterday, those present being Secretary of State Matthews, Auditor Henderson, Treasurer Gall, Librarian Dunn, Attorney-general Smith, Supreme Court Clerk Sweeney, Chief of the Bureau of Statistics Peelle and Chief of the Bureau of Geology Gorby. After deciding to attend the funeral of ex-Senator McDonald in a body the following memorial was adopted:

"Inasmuch as death has struck down our great statesman and party leader, Joseph E. McDonald, we, the Democratic State officers of Indiana, unanimously desire to express our deep sense of the loss to his party and his country in the passing of this heroic soul. His wisdom in council, his firmness of purpose and his unswerving loyalty to principle made him a tower of strength to the political organization with which he was allied. Believing that he served his party best who served his country best, he strove always to serve his country by keeping his party right. What he advocated in theory he exemplified in practice. His administration of every public duty intrusted to him redounded to the credit of the party that advanced him to office. In all his public career he was without fear and without reproach. With such a life it could not be otherwise than that his death should be mourned by all who knew him."

The Gray Club, at its meeting last night, adopt-

The Gray Club, at its meeting last night, adopt ed memorial resolutions, in which it was ex pressed:

"That the State has lost one of her most distinguished citizens, who was long and honorably identified with its political history; one who was called by his fellow-citizens to fill various positions of public trust, and discharged every duty with marked ability and strict fidelity." It was further the sense of the club "that, in the death of the Hon. Joseph E. McDonald, the Democratic party has lost a valuable and time-hon-ored member. That, while we lament his death and deplore his loss to the State as a citizen and to the Democratic party, to which he so long and honorably adhered, we have the consolation that he lived a useful life, full of years and full of honors."

The Hendricks Club also adopted resolutions, in which it was stated that "by the death of this most eminent statesman and jurist the State and Nation have sustained an irreparable loss," and that "the illustrious deceased was a Democrat whose fealty to the principles of his party made him a leader not only in its councils at home but an exponent of its doctrines on the floor of the United States Sepate where he steed premibut an exponent of its doctrines on the floor of the United States Senate, where he stood prominent among the most learned of that, the greatiegislative body of all the nations of the earth." It was further expressed that the club "deeply deplores the death of this great and grand Indianian, and offers its condolence to his bereaved widow and sorrowing relatives in this their hour of supreme sadness."

Mr. McDonald was a resident of Crawfords-ville for a number of years and an honored member of the Montgomery county bar. He was at one time the law partner of the late Col. 8. C. Willson, and the house in which they had their office is yet standing on Pike street, just east of the Fisher Doherty house. It contained two rooms, and at present is used as a cow stable. The Montgomery county bar met yesterday afternoon, in the court-house at Crawfordsville, over which the flag floats at half-mast, and there, with Ben T. Ristine presiding and J. R. Hanna secretary, the following-named persons were appointed to prepare a memorial to be placed on the court record: P. 8. Kennedy, Theo. Ristine, J. M. Seller, Chas. Johnson and Judge A. D. Thomas. They reported as follows, the memorial, after reading, being adopted:

"The Hon. Joseph E. McDonald was admitted to the bar of the Montgomery county Circuit Court on Oct. 16, 1843, and thereafter he resided in Crawfordsville for many years, and during this time he identified himself with all the interests of that community.

"The honored career, which has just closed."

"The honored career, which has just closed, was begun in that city, and among people by whom he was greatly beloved. Therefore, we deem it proper to put on record a memorial of the esteem in which he was held by this people. His personal career, now closed, was one of singular purity, fit to be held up to all the world. He scorned pretense and subterfuge and scrupulously avoided all the acts of the trickster. What he urged, he believed. Nothing ever induced him to attempt success by dishonest means. He was a pure man, as well as an honest and able lawyer, and his whole career, both public and private, was one that the world will admire so long as the love of truth and justice shall prevail among men." "The honored career, which has just closed

After the adoption of this, speeches were made by Alex. Thomson, P. S. Kennedy, Judge Britton, Chairman Ristine and others.

LETTERS AND TELEGRAMS. . Letters of condolence were received yesterday from ex-Attorney-general Garland, Judge Gresham and others. Among the telegrams Mrs. Mo-Donald received was one from ex-President Cleveland, dated Buzzard's Bay, Mass. It was as follows:

"I have just heard of your terrible bereavement, and I desire to tender you my heartfelt sympathy as one who also mourns the death of a faithful friend." Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Spofford, the former the Librarian of Congress, wired as follows:

"Every lover of truth and justice has lost a friend. Please accept our love and sympathy."

Governor Hovey, who is at Mount Vernon, sent a telegram saying:

"With regret I have learned of your sad bereavement. I have known Senator McDonald for many years, and I have always regarded him as on e of the purest and best of men. His loss is not only yours, but that of the State and the Natio n."

JAIL PLANS REVISED.

The Work to Begin Early in September-Stone from the Court-House Yard Wall to Be Used.

Charles H. Sparks, of the Pauly Jail-building Company, of St. Louis, was here yesterday to submit the revised plans for the new jail to the County Commissioners and the Board of State Charities. The plans are practically the same as detailed some weeks ago in the Journal, the few changes made being merely to conform to the grade of the new site. The changes, Mr. Sparks says, will not detract from the architectural beauty of the structure, as the tower effects, which are expected to prove so striking, will be retained. The revised plans were formally approved by the commissioners and the Board of State Charities, and Mr. Sparks returned to St. Louis last night. He will return in two weeks with the specifications and the commissioners will then advertise for bids. Six weeks will have to be given to this and it will be pretty close to Sept. 1 before work can be commenced. The commissioners expected that the building would be under roof by Jan. 1, but Mr. Sparks says that will be next to impossible now. The Board of State Charities and the County Commissioners will meet again with Mr. Sparks, July 7, to examine the completed drawings and specifications.

The commissioners intend to utilize most of the stone in the low wall about the court-house yard, despite the opinion of experienced persons that it will crumble easily and prove very expensive economy in the long run. County Attorney Spencer thinks the rear wall can be built with this stone, as it will make no difference whether its appearance is weather-beaten and stained. The new location renders the rear wall of little consequence, retained. The revised plans were formally ap-is weather-beaten and stained. The new location renders the rear wall of little consequence, so far as looks go, he argues. President Emrich of the board of commissioners. Wants to build the entire jail with the stock on hand, and says in support of it that the building will look stained enough in a short time, no matter of what stone it is constructed. He urges that it is but the natural effect of exposure to weather conditions, and does not believe the stone in the court-house yard wall will crumble any more rapidly than the newly-quarried article. It is not at all likely, however, that the building will be made of this stone in question. A portion of it may be utilized as Mr. Spencer suggests, but it would be short-sighted policy, according to well-posted men, to follow out Mr. Emrich's idea.

WILL NOT ACCEPT IT.

The Citizens' Company and County Commissioners Cannot Agree as to Terms of a Grant.

Superintendent Steele, of the Citizens' Street railroad Company, was at the County Commissioners' office, yesterday, trying to find out just what chance his people stood of coming to term with the county on the electric line northeast He examined the entry, which was interlined and twisted around so that it was not readily decipherable, and, after some moments' study, remarked that the Citizens' company would never consent to the conditions sought to be imposed by the county. "I thought we had about arrived at an understanding," said he, "but here we are, further apart than ever. The county asks too much of us, and we cannot build the line at such a sacrifice." The commissioners took no action much of us, and we cannot build the line at such a sacrifice." The commissioners took no action on the entry prepared by County Attorney Spencer, and will further consider the matter at a meeting next Saturday afternoon.

It is not at all probable, however, that they will moderate the conditions, though the Citizens' company representatives will labor assiduously with them between now and Saturday, in an endeavor to secure a more favorable proposition. The corporation does not relish the idea of giving up the Sugar-flat section and the bonds, and is likely to hold off some time before making any such concessions, if, indeed, it consents to make them at all. One of the commissioners said last night that it was rather unreasonable in the Citizens' company to expect the county to pay it $1,500 for road bonds and then turn around and give the corporation the road. "Let the Citizens' people give up the bonds," said he, "and make a free road of it, and we will give them the right of way to Twenty-sixth street, as they desire. That's a fair proposition, and I will never consent to any moderation of it. Naturally, the company wants the best of the deal, but we have to look out for the county's interests."

It can be seen, therefore, that there is little change of the search and the county coming

It can be seen, therefore, that there is little chance of the company and the county coming together on this last proposition. Another route will now be in order.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY. Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Tutewiler observed the twenty-fifth anniversary of their wedding last evening at their home, No. 401 North Mississippi street, by giving a large and elegant reception. It not only marked their eilver wedding day, but introduced two brides, Mrs. Isaac Dunn and Mrs. Arthur Brown, who, with their husbands received the guests as they arrived. Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Tutewiler, sr., were present, as was Mrs. Jacob Dunn, the mother of Mrs. Tutewiler. There were also many of the friends who attended the marriage ceremony a quarter of a century ago present, and not a few indulged in the reminiscences of that occasion. The house was decorated with flowers, and particularly attractive over doors, windows and arches were boughs of cherries. Probably the article that attracted most attention was the old and tattered flag which belonged to Mr. Henry Tutewiler's regiment, the Seventeenth Indiana Mounted Infantry. The souvenir of the occasion was a blue satin ribbon bearing the dates, "1866—1891," and the names, "Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Tutewiler." The grape-arbor was covered with canvas and brilliantly lighted, and there refreshments were served. The place had the appearance of a summer-garden picnic.

A pretty home wedding occurred last evening at No. 68 Arch street. The bride was Miss Alice M. Mendenhall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Mendenhall, and the groom Mr. William R. Rexford. The geremony was performed by Rev ford. The geremony was performed by Rev.

Henry A. Buchtel. D. D.. pastor of Central-avenue Methodist Church, in the presence of the immediate family and a few intimate friends. The house was tastefully decorated with palms and white carnations, and the bridal party stood beneath a circle of the flowers named. The bride wore a dainty gown of white Lansdowne and was attended by a little maid of honor, Miss Eva Mendenhall, who wore white and carried the bride's bouquet of white roses. Mr. and Mrs. Rexford left last night for Denver, Col. They will be absent three weeks, and upon their return will go to housekeeping at No. 21 Butler street, where many of the useful and ornamental furnishings will be their wedding gifts from friends. The guests from away who attended the marriage were Mr. and Mrs. Train McClure, of Wabash, uncle and aunt of the bride.

MRS. MALOTT'S RECEPTION. Mrs. V. T. Malott gave a delightful reception yesterday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, in compliment to Mrs. W. H. H. by Cuticura Remedies.

I was covered with scrofula sores from my head to my waist, suffering so that I could not sleep nights, and could lie down only with pillows under my arms. My head was so sore that I could not wear a hat, and being a farmer I could not go bareheaded, so wore a very soft handkerchief on my head. In fact, I was a disgusting sight to others and to myself. After doctoring for six years with the best physicians in the country, and getting worse all the time, I had given up all hope of getting well, when I saw your Cuticura Remedies advertised and pro-cured a set, although with little faith in them. The first set, however, did me such a vast amount of good that I continued their use, and now, after using four sets, I am happy to say that I am entirely cured. #### "The Hoosier Gazelle."

An Indianian traveling in England was asked what game animals abounded in this State. He replied that the Hoosier gazelle was to be found in greater numbers than any other kind.

"The Hoosier gazelle," exclaimed the inquirer, "I never heard of the animal before." "O," replied the Indiana man, "that's our native name for 'em. You folks over here call them hogs." No other gazelle can furnish such delightful products; meat-food that is in demand by rich and poor alike, and welcomed to all tables. KINGAN'S BACON is a fine breakfast dish at this season.

KINGAN'S HAM, for any of the three meals of the day. KINGAN'S ENG.-CURED SHOULDERS always sweet and palatable.
